SABIC LNP™ COMPOUNDS & COPOLYMER RESINS

CHEMISTRY THAT MATTERS™

SABIC LNP™ PRODUCT LINE EXPERIENCE + INNOVATION

Since the development of melt-processed fluoropolymer compounds in 1948, SABIC SABIC LNP™ product line continue to provide innovative solutions to both customer and industrial challenges. These solutions range from non-PTFE wear-resistant alloys to THERMOCOMP™ compounds for large format additive manufacturing (LFAM).

PRODUCT SERVICE OFFERINGS

At SABIC, we are committed to helping you, our customers, respond to tomorrow's challenges. That's why, we have complemented our extensive Specialties product portfolio with product services that can help you to be faster and more agile.

FAST FORMULATION

This service responds more quickly to requests for slight modifications of existing products to be considered for customer evaluation.

With dedicated manufacturing capabilities, depending on the nature and scope of the request, we can provide an initial assessment in up to five business days and a custom-made sample in up to six weeks.

SMALL SCALE SAMPLING

SABIC's Specialties resins and compounds are available in small order quantities that many customers need for product development, prototyping and part testing.

Starting from 25 kg, these samples can be ordered with shortened lead time to provide speed and flexibility in application development.

WHY

- Faster time-to-market
- Dynamic response to customer needs
- Changing application requirements
- More demanding specification
- Stringent regulatory environment
- Complex application development
